DiSalle Lays It on the Line

Until some future Ohio governor makes a clearer presentation of the state's budget problem, Michael V. DiSalle will get credit for the best job in the memory of any living Ohioan.

He has gone to the mat with a tough subject and pinned it down. He has confronted a spending-minded legislature with an ultimatum that cannot be brushed aside:

If you want to spend more money, you have to raise more money.

HERE IS what the governor proposes in the way of more money:

1. That Ohioans who use liquor should pay for it at prices competitive with those of neighboring states—enough more to raise 20 million a year.

2. That Ohioans who use cigarettes should pay two more cents a package—enough to raise 23 million a year.

3. That Ohioans who drink beer should be willing to pay for the 3.2 per cent variety at the same rate as the high-powered variety—enough to raise two million a year.

4. That Ohioans who bet on horse races should pay three million a year more than they are paying now.

5. That Ohio corporations should raise 13 million a year more in their franchise taxes.

6. That all Ohioans hold still for adjustments in the way sales taxes are collected to produce 22 million additional revenue.

The total in all new revenue, including a tax boost on gasoline and diesel fuel, would be something more than a third of a billion dollars in the next two years, or a sixth of a billion each year.

Ohioans should become familiar with the idea of billions, because their budgets from now on will be described in billions. The grand total of the budget Gov. DiSalle is talking about—a two-year budget—is $2,076,212,000. The comparable figure for the O'Neill administration was $1,875,287,762.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY can take that figure or leave it. If it takes it, additional taxes must be forthcoming.

If it leaves it, for the sake of avoiding additional taxes, it must give up much of the spending it and preceding assemblies have found so attractive.

Gov. DiSalle has shut the mouths of pop-off critics who try to shove blame on the executive at budget-making time by giving the legislature a range of five choices, from an all-out austerity program to an all-out spending program. His own recommendation is a middle-of-the-road program, to keep the

Serving Their City

Jack Rance, who received the Junior Chamber of Commerce's distinguished service award at the Jaycees' Bosses Night dinner Wednesday, is typical of the Junior Chamber members who contribute much time and effort in various civic projects so that Salem might be a better place in which to live.

Jack, and the other young men like him in the community, lend a willing hand to direct or take part in essential service activities. Because of their youth and vigor, they are usually able to meet with success in their endeavors.

"We believe," reads the Jaycee creed, "that faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life" and it concludes that "service to humanity is the best work of life."

By ascribing to such a creed, the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce will always be an organization of dedicated young men.

state solvent without crippling its orderly growth.

This is accompanied, moreover, by a recommendation that could make a vital difference to Ohioans in the years to come—a financial study of Ohio, with a view to more orderly budget procedure.

Every state in the Union is having budget trouble in 1959. Some of them have been having trouble for several years. Ohio, itself, has been kept off the financial hook by the surpluses it piled up during the war years from sales tax collections, when large-scale spending had to be deferred because the federal government would not give states priorities on building material.

The fact is that in every year starting in 1948 Ohio has spent more money than it has collected, draining away its surplus. It now has come to the end of the line. The surplus is gone.

The state either must go to its taxpayers or to the dogs.

Fortunately, it can go to its taxpayers with good grace because it has not abused them. Also fortunately, its new governor, with a four-year term to give him time to make adjustments and a point of view that makes going to the dogs a betrayal of his trust, is leveling with taxpayers when he tells them the unpleasant facts of budgetary life.

THE GOVERNOR'S dander has put the members of the legislature in the middle, where he obviously wants them to be.

They are chock-full of ideas for spending money they don't have. Their constituents back home are chock-full of ideas for demanding money they don't intend to pay as long as they are babied along in the illusion that somebody else can be made to pay it.

Gov. DiSalle and his new state administration have ideas for spending money, too. No one gets elected these days by talling about austerity.

But sooner or later, someone has to get down to brass tacks about money. President Eisenhower has been doing it in Washington, to the consternation of the Spendocrats in Congress. Gov. DiSalle now has done it in Columbus—and he has wounded Ohio Spendocrats with his blunt budget-balancing.

They will be yipping and sobbing from now on. There's no way to balance a budget without making people unhappy. But Gov. DiSalle seems to have plugged his ears with cotton. Come what may, he has made the clearest budget presentation anyone in the Ohio territory has heard of since pioneer governors ran the state on thousands instead of the millions that came later and the billions that are here now.

Real Missionaries

It will be "welcome home" for Don and Audrey Seiler when the former local Salvation Army officers just back from Rhodesia, South Africa, are guests at the Army board's dinner meeting Monday evening at the Presbyterian Church.

Capt. and Mrs. Seiler were in charge of the local citadel before they went to northern Rhodesia as missionaries five years ago. The Seilers won the friendship and admiration of many Semites when they were here and it was with some reluctance that the city bade them goodbye when they sailed.

As dedicated Salvationists, the Seilers have achieved much success in missionary work among the Africans and after five months' furlough, expect to return. We are happy that they are home, yet confident that the "song in their hearts" will mean many more years of humanitarian work in South Africa.

Showmen, Not Newspapermen

By Westbrook Pegler

The total disappearance of Egbert Murrow, like a genie in a cloud of cigarette smoke, is trivial compared to the ominous fact that this empty fellow reigned so long as an oracle of political theology over people pretending to wise judgment.

George Sokolsky, with his instinct for the jugular, pointed out a few days after Murrow crumbled like cigarette ash on his own vest, that Murrow had never been a newspaperman. He was a showman. Of all the types of showmen, Murrow was, so to speak, a pitchman, spilling from his ladder to fascinate the yokels with laudations of miraculous ointments of tiger-marrow and pay-later luxuries.

EGBERT'S UTMOST was an appearance before a select company of cadets at West Point by an invitation so cagey that when all was said and done it appeared that some cadets had taken it on themselves to ask him up.

No cadet has such authority. Yet Murrow got this forum for a political exultation over Joe

Low-Budget Diversion

By TRUMAN TWILL

It is the smart thing among young suburbanites in the New York City area to think up offset diversions that can be indulged in at least than $10 a couple of occasions.

They band together in "Crazy Couple Clubs" to share ideas. The members have grown tired of doing the things everybody else in their social stratum has a tendency to do when it is time for a night out.

They have reached the point where it makes no sense to blow $50 or $60 for dinner, show and a little something afterward—the "big evening" pattern of the denizen of New York City. So they looked for something to relieve their boredom.

They whoop it up in hash houses, amusement parks and wrestling shows. They have been entertained by hypnotists, character analysts and lecturers. Each couple puts $10 into a kitty, which then is made to stretch over an evening's entertainment by a host and hostess. If a club has 12 couples in it, that's $120—and for $120 a lot of laughs can be bought.

At this point, the idea is likely to sound familiar to members of a generation old enough to bear the scars of the Great Depression.

There used to be a lot of budget-saving diversion in depression days. It was common in this part of the country, so presumably it was not unknown among New Yorkers.

The difference was that no one then had grown accustomed to blowing in a week's income for a night out. Budget-saving was not an alternative to something that once had been expensive but a way of life dictated by economic necessity.

Everybody had to remember at all times that the other fellow might be down to his last buck, because that is the way things were in those days. But with tactful inquiry, if it could be ascertained that everybody in the crowd was flush, someone would initiate for a "dutch" excursion.

Civil Defense Exercise Will Start April 17

WASHINGTON (AP) — The sixth annual nationwide Civil Defense exercise will start April 17 with a mock assault on American cities.

A second phase of Operation Alert 1959 will check the ability of officials to deal with immediate after-attack problems. Town, city and county governments will hold their tests May 8 and 9, states June 4 and 5, and regional Civil Defense offices July 8-10.

Dates for the final phase, relocation of federal agencies, have not been fixed.

Investigation Launched Of Fire That Killed 21

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — State fire officials moved today to place or absolve blame for a pre-dawn blaze which killed 21 teen-agers at the Negro Boys Industrial School Thursday.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who visited the scene at nearby Wrightsville while the ruins smoldered, called the tragedy inexcusable. He said it could not have happened "except for the negligence of someone."

Sixty-nine youths between the ages of 15 and 18 were locked in a dormitory in the north wing of a large building which was leveled less than an hour after the blaze was discovered.

Forty-seven escaped death by kicking out heavy metal screens. The doors to the building were never unlocked. No one with a key was in the building when the fire broke out.

SOME PEOPLE SAY

that Easter Greeting Cards are the whole year's most beautiful, and we incline to agree. May we urge an early look and selection, of those you may wish to send to family and friends?

And we want to say again that the most fitting Easter gift is a Bible. You may prefer "the beloved King James Version", which comes in a variety of sizes, bindings, types and prices. Or the "R. S. V.", with its modern English language, also in a variety of bindings, sizes, types and costs. Always glad to show either, or both, to any who are interested.

WSCS Will Hear Returned

Missionary to India April 1

Miss Thelma Montgomery, former missionary to India, will be guest speaker April 1 at 7:30 p.m. at the monthly meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service in the First Methodist Church. Mrs. Delmer Smith will be in charge of the prayer service.

Announcement of the missionary's visit here was made at Wednesday's WSCS meeting in the music room of the church following a half hour prayer service in the chapel conducted by Miss Martha Jane Frary.

The District Meeting will be March 11 at Wintersville with Mrs. Herbert Massey in charge of the session beginning at 10 a.m.

Mrs. William Keck, president, announced that Mrs. C. A. Meek, editor of The Methodist Woman, will be speaker April 9 when the Steubenville District of the WSCS meets in Salem. Mrs. Keck asked that each group appoint four women to help in the kitchen and dining room for that day.

The summer school session at Mount Union College will be June 21-25; the Lakeside School, July 19-24; and the Bethesda School of Missions, Aug. 2-6.

Mrs. William Woolf reported that 24 members of the teachers training class taught by Miss Frary will receive credit. A new class starting at 9:30 a.m. Sunday and continuing for 10 weeks, will be for all church members.

The class will be based on a book by Georgia Harkness, "Understanding the Christian Faith," with the Rev. William Snowball as teacher.

Jurisdictional credit has been received by the local society for members who completed the mission study course on "Methodism in Alaska and Hawaii."

No invitations will be issued, but all friends and relatives are invited to the reception.

Guarding Your Health

Questions and Answers

Precautions against contagious diseases are still in order.

Q — Recently a close relative who has been staying with us has been found to have tuberculosis. He has done a lot of coughing and I want to know if there is any danger for my son and myself.

A — Tuberculosis is a germ disease and the germ can be spread from one person to another. A person who is coughing a good deal probably has the disease in the active stage and is expelling the germ. This germ, then, can be breathed in by others in the vicinity and can lead to tuberculosis.

Under such circumstances, the doctor who made the diagnosis should be consulted with regard to the possibilities of contagion. In all probability, the relative in question should be placed in a tuberculosis sanatorium, both for the sake of his own health and for others.

Q — Does a red itchy nose denote a vitamin deficiency?

A — Probably not. A more likely possibility is a skin disease known as acne rosacea.

Q — What are spurs in the heel?

These are known as calcaneal spurs and consist of bony tissues extending out from the heel bone proper. They can usually be seen in the X-ray. Often they are quite painful, but mostly this pain occurs when pressure is put on the heel.

Sometimes the pain can be lessened by arranging the shoe so that the weight is borne on the outside rather than the center of the heel. Sometimes these spurs have been operated on in an attempt to remove the excess painful tissue but the results of this operation are not good. Personally, I should hesitate a long time before trying it myself.

Q — At times, usually when eating something tart, my jaw just below the left ear swells up and feels quite hard. Sometimes the swelling goes away quickly and other times it remains for some time. Would you explain this?

A — This is a peculiar situation which apparently involves certain salivary glands known as the parotids, which are involved in the mumps. A long distance guess would be that certain foodstuffs cause a swelling of the outlet from these glands which prevents the free flow of saliva. The treatment, insofar as possible, is to avoid those foods which seem to cause the difficulty.

Q — I have an inactive thyroid gland and have been taking pills for about six years. Are these likely to cause any harm to the heart or other parts of the body?

A — Assuming that these pills are thyroid extract and that the amount you are taking is adjusted to your needs, they can be taken indefinitely without causing harm. Indeed, if they are stopped, you would be more likely to develop difficulty.

Hagerty denied the conference with congressional leaders was dictated by any emergency.

Meeting Covered Berlin

Hagerty said the congressional leaders would consider the same subjects discussed Thursday at a 13-hour special session of the National Security Council. He said that meeting covered "the evolving situation in Berlin and the broad question of Germany."

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy told a news conference meanwhile that he and the Joint Chiefs of Staff are agreed it would be virtually impossible for the Soviet Union to make a major surprise attack on this country with planes or missiles.

McElroy, Vice President Neil H. McElroy and Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, all of whom attended the National Security Council meeting, return today for the meeting with congressional leaders. Also invited were Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas, House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) and the Republican leaders of Senate and House, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

Hanoverton Scene Of Postmasters' District Meeting

Miss Josephine Furey, Hanoverton postmaster, was hostess for the 18th District Postmaster Association dinner meeting Wednesday at the Hanoverton American Legion Hall.

Sixty were present for the steak dinner served by the auxiliary of the Lepine-Rush post, American Legion.

Following the dinner the program was in charge of Miss Furey who gave the welcome. Representing the Post Office department were C. C. Brooks of Cleveland and Paul Courtney of Columbus, both field service officers.

They discussed the mail improvement program and the steps which are being taken to improve the service and speed delivery of mail, and how better ways are being sought to process an increasing volume of mail.

Joseph Kuhns, superintendent of mails at Steubenville, briefly discussed the program at the Steubenville office for improving mail delivery.

The main address of the evening was given by Robert H. Longworth, state representative and county superintendent of Carroll County schools, who discussed the bills before the present state legislature.

Entertainment was furnished by John Gruszeck Jr., who performed magic tricks, and Mrs. Mary Morgan of Kensington offered a vocal solo.

The business meeting was in charge of Robert McElroy of Tonto, who is president of the Association.

He took the position that the amount of preparation required would give this country advance warning if the U.S.S.R. should plan to launch an attack capable of "knocking out hundreds or thousands of targets in a matter of minutes."

He also discounted chance of any limited war breaking out over Berlin, indicating that if a shooting war actually started it probably would become a major one.

"It would be very difficult to keep it a limited war," he said.

McElroy, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, all of whom attended the National Security Council meeting, return today for the meeting with congressional leaders.

Others elected to office are: Vice President, Robert Gorner; treasurer, Henry Willard; recording secretary, Richard O. McArtor.

Reynaldo Oriole is chief of the Auxiliary Police Force, and Kenneth is captain.

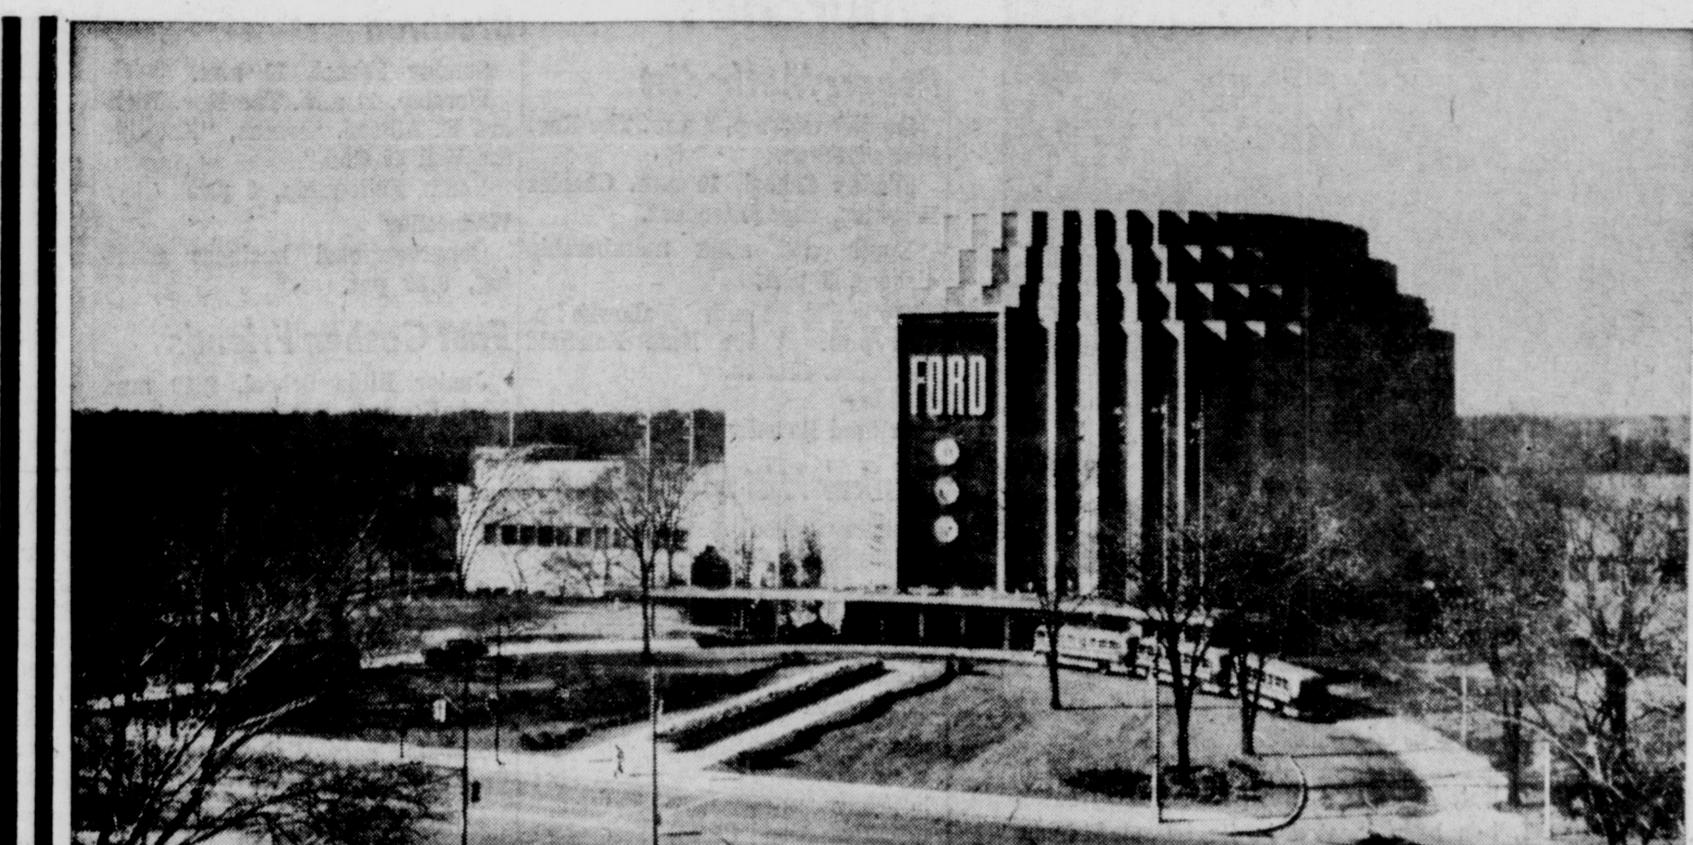

The group holds regular meetings the second and fourth Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in City Hall.

Kennell Is Elected By Auxiliary Police

Edward C. Kennell was elected president of the Salem Auxiliary Police Force at a recent meeting in City Hall.

Others elected to office are: Vice President, Robert Gorner; treasurer, Henry Willard; recording secretary, Richard O. McArtor.

Reynaldo Oriole is chief of the Auxiliary Police Force, and Kenneth is captain.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

A great wind woon will be roaring east across the plains. On it will ride the noise of protests from people who haven't lost their verve for indignation — nor their wonderment at the asphalt jungles crawling with m o b s t e r s , pushing giant cities around.

Here the people of the grain and oil and gas fields — like the citizenry along the 2,000 miles I've rolled from Washington and New York — want to know why there is no law to rob the rackets of their power.

Why come to Bismarck? You come because the people ask you to come and explain. (Someone whimsically points out that it is the geographic center of North America.) You report that you have polled much of the Senate — and that the senators say that there will be an anti-racketeering labor law.

But, the people ask, when? And, they ask, why is there so much haggling over the 80 bills which have been introduced in Congress to fight the crime syndicates' infiltration of labor?

THERE ARE questions about the new pension and welfare law passed to protect some 40 billion dollars worth of insurance against old age, sickness and heart-break from idleness. A check shows that the Labor Department's new Division of Welfare and Pension Reports is now a vast file fortress with some 250,000 forms submitted by fund trustees — and probably another 250,000 reports flooding in. But they really can't be checked. Nowhere is there the power to dig into these pension and welfare documents for evidence of willfully crooked filing.

People ask about the section of the Taft - Hartley law which requires the filing of union financial statements. There are thousands of these statements in the U.S. Labor Department cabinets. But there is no way in which the secretary of labor can probe them. Nor can they be made public. No one has the right to audit them.

Yet we know that the business card - letterhead type of racket union just exposed by the McClellan committee files so it can operate as a legitimate union under the protective labor laws of the land.

We know that hundreds of tiny outfits with p o m p o u s sounding names, used only for shakedowns, hide their expenditures under such items as office furniture and administrative expenses.

WE KNOW that 63 per cent of all local unions in the U.S. have less than 200 members. Thousands of these are regular units. Yet in this 63 per cent are the most out-fits.

There is, for example, Local 134, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, with less than 200 members in its coin machine division, which has been described at McClellan committee hearings as the "enforcing arm" for the mob controlling the Chicago juke box field.

There are no standards, there are no regulations for such unions. Many need no one's permission to print a charter and go into business with professional pickets. One such picket exposed by Bob Kennedy's probbers had five business cards on him, each with a different union name. He would picket one store or tavern, then call up and take an assignment for another picketing stint and simply present the proper card to the police if questioned.

Another goon, specialist in mayhem, printed himself 12 charters, each with the name of a fake union — but each with the power to picket. He had a regular price list for removal of pickets and ending of other harassments.

OUT HERE they don't understand why anyone permits black-mail picketing — and why there is no law against it. These people are far away but let no wise guy talk about everybody north of Broadway and 52nd st being yokels. They deal with Teamster locals, Building and Construction Trades, Oil Workers, and Packinghouse hands in both Dakotas.

True, the Bismarck and Fargo Teamsters voted for Hoffa at the last Miami convention. They used to be a rough crowd back in the days when they were run by the even tougher Minneapolis Teamster headquarters. But neither here nor over the border in South Dakota do the folks let themselves get buried around.

If there are any rackets, the people haven't found them nor have they passed them on to their "home town boy." Sen. Karl Mundt, vice chairman of the McClellan committee files. And he was home two weeks ago, ready to talk to all comers.

The folks here want to know what's the matter with all you Down-Easterners — and Westerners, too.

Quakers Take On Wilson In District Semi-Finals

Contest Set In South FH At 8

Local Seniors Fully Recovered From Flu

Salem's Quakers will face the first of two obstacles that stand in their way of the District Class AA title tonight when they take on Woodrow Wilson in an 8 p.m. district semi-final battle at the Youngstown South field house.

The visiting Presidents emerged from an upset-filled Struthers sectional tourney to join Salem and now Chaney in the district. Chaney will play the winner of tonight's contest tomorrow evening at 8:15 for the right to advance into next week's Kent regional.

Chaney defeated Canfield last night in the other semi-final game.

Wilson has won 13 and lost 7. They have won over Ursuline 64-62 and 60-55, Rayen 51-49, Struthers 61-43, Fitch 69-53, Mooney 66-59 and 77-65, North 53-51, Niles 52-46, East 55-53 and Leavittsburg 61-23.

They have lost to South 74-59, Chaney 69-47, Canfield 70-68, Brookfield 79-71, Sharpsville, Pa., 76-64, Canton Lehman 94-64 and Hubbard 70-66 in overtime.

Wilson finished second (5-2) in the Youngstown city series behind Chaney.

The big spark in their tourney drive has been 6-2 Lou Marinelli. He didn't start all season long but was inserted in the lineup in the first game in the tourney and has helped the Presidents with his board work in advancing Wilson to where they are now in the district semi-finals.

The Presidents' best ball handler is 5-11 John Trevis. They are not gigantic but most of their players go between 5-11 and 6-3. Other starters are 6-2 Rich Hovanec, their leading scorer with a 15-point average, and Nick Milasovich and Bob Lilly both 6-1.

Salem's three seniors all starters were plagued by the flu this week and each missed a few days of school. Their appearance will be made however in tonight's tilt.

Clyde Marks Lou Slaby and Woody Deitch have recovered in time to face Wilson and will join Dan Krichbaum and Dave Hunter in attempting to vault the Quakers into the district finals against Chaney an opponent they have looked forward to meeting ever since the tourney started.

Freshmen Lose 30-28 Game, Hit Only 18%

Connecting on a meager 18 percent of their field goal attempts the Salem freshmen basketball squad dropped a 30-28 encounter to the Salineville frosh Thursday in the Beaver Local tournament.

The Quakers made but 9 of 51 shots while the Indians hit on 8 of 31 for 26 percent.

In the second and fourth frames Salem made but one goal from the field.

Salem led 8-7 after one quarter and 14-11 at the half. Salineville rallied in the third stanza to take a 23-21 lead.

Bob Eskay had 11 for Salem while Gary Jeffries had 7, Al Ew. 6, Ted Thorne 2 and Tepic and Greenfield one each.

Leatherberry had 13 for the winners while Baker and Jones had eight each and Cunningham one. The Quakers made 10 of 18 fouls and Salineville 14 of 28.

Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson Named To All-American Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati—"A greater player this year than last."

Jerry West of West Virginia—"There's no one who can compare to him in all-around ability."

Bob Boozer of Kansas State—"Hardest to stop big man in college basketball."

Bailey Howell of Mississippi State—"Greatest player in the Southeastern Conference Since Bob Pettit."

Johnny Cox of Kentucky—"Best when the going is tough."

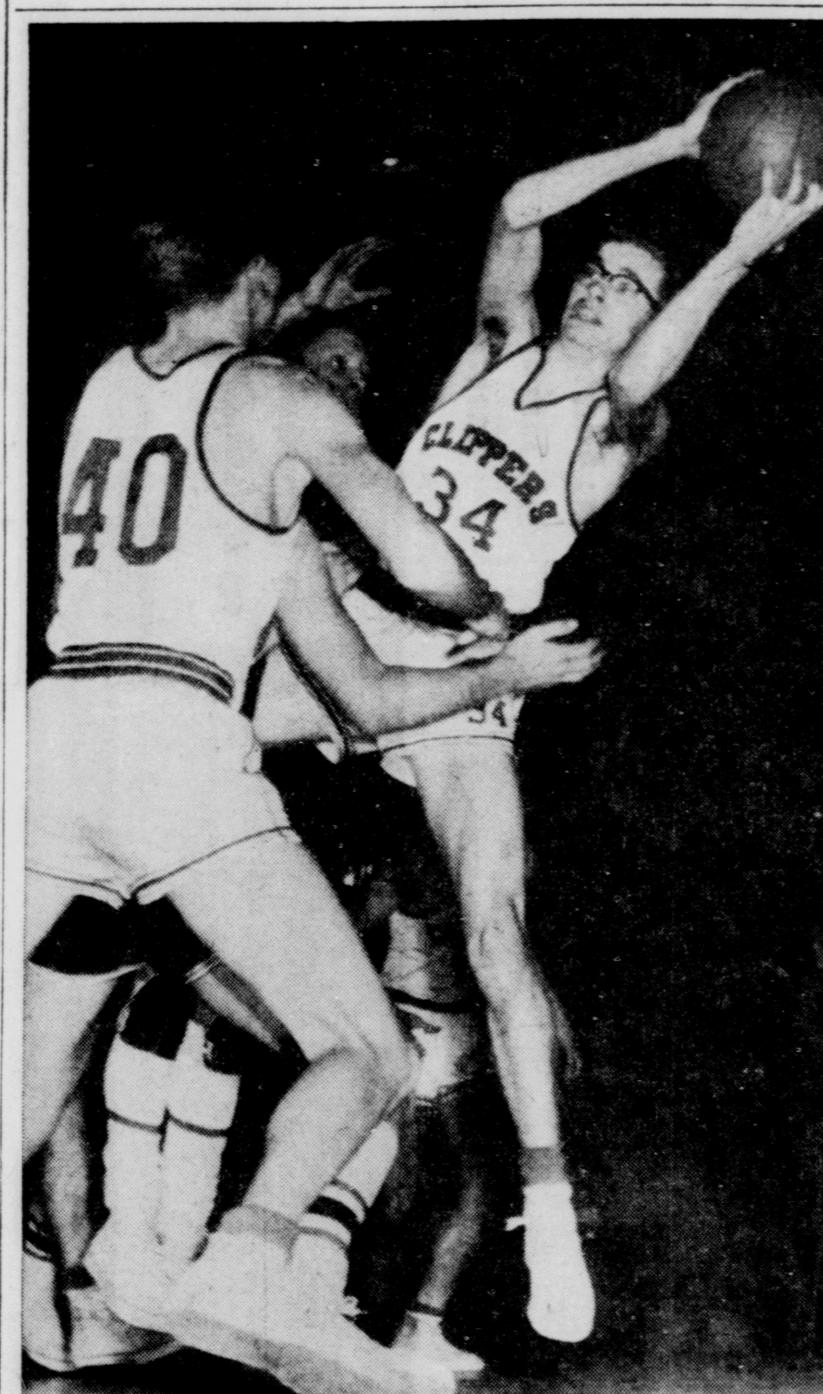

These five whizzes of the hardwood were named to the 1959 collegiate basketball All-America by The Associated Press today on the basis of votes from 319 sports-writers and broadcasters throughout the country.

Robertson, the "Big O" who made the All-America last year as a sophomore, again is the top major college scorer, averaging better than 33 points a game.

"He is an all around player, offensively and defensively," Cincinnati Coach George Smith says. "He is one of top rebounders in the nation. And with all of that he is a great team player."

West, a junior like Robertson, led West Virginia to its fifth straight Southern Conference title.

Clippers Edge Springfield Local 63-61 in 'Sudden Death'

Davidson Foul Shots Bring Victory to Columbiana

By HARRY SAVAGE

Don "Bevo" Davidson sank two free throws in sudden death overtime to give Columbiana a 63-61 victory over Springfield Local in the Class "A" District tournament, Thursday night at Canton City Auditorium.

Davidson, a 6-4 sophomore standout, was the hero of the moment for the Clippers, but Ray Baltz was the boy who pushed through a 20 foot one-hander with less than 20 seconds left in the fourth quarter and came back to score on a layup shot to knot the score, 59-59, as the gun went off to mark the end of regulation time. The 6-2, bespectacled Baltz also scored the only Columbiana bucket in the first overtime period. This first, three-minute, extra period ended with the score 61-61.

The win was the 12th for the Clips. They have lost nine. Rich Berryman's quintet will meet a powerful Braceville five, Saturday night at 7 p.m. in Canton, for the championship of the upper bracket and the right to represent this bracket in the Canton regional tourney.

Braceville used their superior height to good advantage in defeating a disorganized Black River ball club 72-65 in Thursday evening's other tilt on the Auditorium floor.

Springfield Local was playing with the services of regular starter, Dick Smith, who spent most of the time on the bench due to illness. The 6-1 pivotman entered the contest shortly before half time and managed to push in one basket and grab four or five quick rebounds to aid the Tigers' drive.

DAVIDSON HIT A LAYUP to start the second half, but two straight Springfield Local field goals gave the Tigers their biggest lead of the evening at 37-27 with 5:15 remaining in the third quarter.

The Columbiana fast break narrowed the gap to 38-33 and the teams exchanged buckets for the rest of the period to make the score Springfield Local 46, Columbiana 40 at the end of the next-to-last quarter.

A push shot by Harrold and a free throw by Tom Logan made the score 46-43 early in the final canto. The Tigers came back, led by Sznajkart, and widened the gap to 55-47 with less than four minutes remaining.

The count was 57-51 with a little under three minutes to play. At this point Baltz took charge.

The lanky forward hit a brace of free throws to make it 57-53. Seconds later a Baltz field goal made it 57-55 with less than a minute to play. The Tigers fed the ball to Sznajkart, who drove the baseline and hit a layup to put Springfield out in front 59-55 with less than 30 seconds to play.

Baltz's final pair of field goals sent the game into overtime and the crew-cut junior hit a short jump shot to make it 61-59 early in the extra period. Sznajkart made good on a pair of charity tosses to tie the score in the three-minute period. Springfield worked for one last shot in the overtime, but on their final attempt Metzka was called for traveling and the game went into sudden death.

Davidson got the tip for Columbiana in the second overtime and

In the second quarter, Columbiana switched into a zone defense and it almost proved their undoing. Springfield worked the ball around well, and Sznajkart was uncanny with his jump shots and one-hand pushers from outside the Clippers' zone. A push shot by Harrold and a free throw by Tom Logan made the score 46-43 early in the final canto. The Tigers came back, led by Sznajkart, and widened the gap to 55-47 with less than four minutes remaining.

The count was 57-51 with a little under three minutes to play. At this point Baltz took charge.

The lanky forward hit a brace of free throws to make it 57-53. Seconds later a Baltz field goal made it 57-55 with less than a minute to play. The Tigers fed the ball to Sznajkart, who drove the baseline and hit a layup to put Springfield out in front 59-55 with less than 30 seconds to play.

Baltz's final pair of field goals sent the game into overtime and the crew-cut junior hit a short jump shot to make it 61-59 early in the extra period. Sznajkart made good on a pair of charity tosses to tie the score in the three-minute period. Springfield worked for one last shot in the overtime, but on their final attempt Metzka was called for traveling and the game went into sudden death.

Davidson got the tip for Columbiana in the second overtime and

'58 EDSEL
Pacer—2 Dr. Hardtop
Without a doubt this is one of the most striking cars on the road today. Luxury at its best. It's finished in bittersweet and metallic colors and is fully equipped. Previously driven by a Hine Motor Co. official. Automatic shift, radio, clear plastic seat covers, whitewalls, etc.

'58 EDSEL
Corsair—4 Dr. Hardtop
Another luxury car with deluxe appointments. You'll find all the equipment expected of a car in its category and you'll admire the beautiful 2-tone aqua and jet black finish. It, too, includes whitewalls.

'57 MERCURY
Monte Carlo Convertible
If you're in the market for something along the "sports" line this one will catch your eye. You'll like the all plush leather interior and the color arrangement inside. Has automatic and all the other equipment. Finished in brown and beige.

'57 PONTIAC
Silver Streak Convertible
If this is the answer you're looking for something along the "sports" line this one will catch your eye. You'll like the all plush leather interior and the color arrangement inside. Has automatic and all the other equipment. Finished in brown and beige.

'56 CADILLAC
Fleetwood—4 Dr. Sedan
One of America's better cars, being fully equipped. Dark blue finish, whitewall tires. For a good, sound quality car this one sets the pace.

'55 FORD
Custom—Four Door
Equipped with Ford-o-matic, etc. You'll find the nice leather interior, matching seat covers. Finished in powder blue and ivory. An excellent family car.

'55 FORD
Custom—Four Door
This is the popular Fairlane model and is fully equipped with Ford-o-matic, etc. Beautifully finished in a rich two-tone tan.

'55 BUICK
Super Riviera Hardtop
A beautiful car with good road-holding and lots of room for riding. Equipped with Dyno-flow, etc. An excellent color combination of green and ivory.

'54 FORD
Custom—Four Door
Includes Ford-o-matic, seat covers, etc. A good solid car you'll enjoy. Finished in aqua.

'54 FORD
Catalina Hardtop
A nice one, boys! Very "showy" beige finish and has whitewalls. Hydramatic, etc. Beautiful leather interior.

Ohio Squads Approach Finals

Middletown Champs To Face Princeton

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's high school basketball teams will name a fourth of the 32 regional qualifiers tonight as the survivors of the starting field of 101 squads race toward the state finals here March 20-21.

Middletown's seven-time Class AA champs, looming larger as the payoff nears, have a chance to get into the regional playoffs as they carry their 18-4 record against Princeton tonight at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati St. Xavier and Cincinnati Taft, the latter the tournament's Cinderella team with an 8-3 record, meet in the Queen City for the other Class AA regional spot up for decision tonight.

Six of the 16 Class A regionalists will be selected in Friday's firing.

They will come from the Ridgeville vs Pickerington and Green Camp vs Lynnwood-Jacksontown clashes at Columbus; Racine vs Southwestern, and New Boston vs Lynchburg at Athens; Midvale vs Conotton Valley at Dover, and Maysville vs Old Washington at Marietta.

One of the Columbus winners goes to the Athens regional, the other to Troy. Both Athens winners stay there for next week's event. The Dover winner goes to Canton, and the Marietta winner to Athens.

In an oddity in the lose-and-out series, the losers at Dover and Marietta get a second chance. They will tangle Saturday at Granville to determine which fills out the four-team Class A field at Canton.

Thursday night's games, in which two former state champs were sidelined, left 52 Class AA and 42 Class A squads still in the running. Seven former Class AA champs and six ex-kings in Class A are among them—although three of the Class A winners are now in the larger-school division.

Portsmouth's Trojans, winners in 1951, were handed a 70-63 overtime defeat by Chillicothe at Athens. Arcanum, the little Darke County town which copped the Class A crown in 1956, was ousted 56-47 by Sidney Holy Angels at Springfield. The Sidney squad, sporting a 24-1 record, meets Local (24-0) Saturday for a regional berth at Troy.

Columbus East (1951), New Philadelphia (1940) and Lorain (1923), all former Class AA winners, were Thursday night victors. Columbus East smacked Columbus Central 76-67. New Philadelphia defeated Cambridge 63-46, and Lorain eased past Bay Village 57-51.

Columbus' Clippers, 1947 Class A victors, also advanced with a 63-61 overtime conquest over Springfield Local.

Twenty-four regional qualifiers, 14 in Class AA and 10 in Class A, will be named in Saturday's heavy state-wide schedule.

The four regional survivors in each division will meet here March 15, to draw for the state tournament.

Local Red Cross Volunteers Work Toward $2,500 Goal

COLUMBIANA — Committees have been set up and volunteers already are at work in the local phase of the month-long Red Cross fund drive.

Mrs. Lewis Way of Columbiiana, county chapter chairman, said the goal for the county outside of East Liverpool, Salem and Wellsville is $9,487 while the local target is $2,500. Community residents last year gave just about $2,550.

Co-chairmen for the local campaign are Mrs. James Weber and Mrs. James Renfrew. Key committees and their leaders are: Industries, Lewis Way and James Weber; merchants, Eugene Crawford, John Elder, and James Renfrew; auto dealers and service stations, George Herrmann; professional offices, Mrs. Allan White.

Zone captains for the house-to-house canvass are Mrs. John Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Paul Flynn, Mrs. Robert Ford, Mrs. Jack Fullerton, Mrs. James Jensen, Mrs. Richard Kapp, Mrs. Wayne Lipe, Mrs. John Longabaugh, Mrs. Ray Mau-er, Mrs. Mount Pursifull Jr. and Mrs. Richard Souder.

THE WIDELY-RECOGNIZED Columbus Boychoir youth singing group from Princeton, N.J., will present a 45-minute concert here Saturday night at the Methodist Church. The concert starts at 7:30 and there will be no admission charge.

PORSCHE FIRM SUED CINCINNATI (AP)—Tull Chemical Co. of Oxford, Ala., filed suit in U.S. District Court Thursday charging Pyroly Chemical Corp. of Portsmouth infringed in its trademark. Tull, maker of a rat poison, contended it lost business in South America when Pyroly marketed a similar product there with the disputed trademark — "Compound 1060." Tull asked for an injunction and for damages.

SAFE DRIVING TIP

Always dim your headlights when another car approaches.

If the oncoming motorist fails to dim his lights, do not retaliate by shining your lights in his eyes. The Chicago Motor Club points out that this will blind both of you temporarily and may cause a head-on collision.

Instead, flick your lights off and on. This will let the other driver know his lights are impairing your vision.

If he still refuses to dim his lights, there are three things you should do: Reduce your speed, pull as close to the right edge of the road as possible, and keep your eyes on the right edge of the roadside pavement to escape as much glare as possible.

Cow Gives Birth to Quadruplet Calves

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A Jersey cow on the farm of Michael Askerman near here gave birth to quadruplet calves this week, but one of them died shortly after birth. Wilbur Roberts, Stark County agriculture agent, said the birth of quadruplet calves happens only about once in every 100,000 births.

SHE ALWAYS NAGGED

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Charles Newell has filed suit for divorce in Circuit Court charging his wife, Bertha, "continually nagged" about:

1. The way he hung up the towels after using them.
2. The way he ate his meals.
3. The fact that he was overweight.
4. The way he combed his hair.
5. His rosy cheeks.
6. The way he complained when his wife's cat walked on the dining table.
7. The way he complained when she took the cat to bed with her.

He added in his petition: "She informed me the cat was there first and took precedence over me."

COMPLETES OCEAN FLIGHT

ROME (AP)—U.S. Ferry pilot Max Conrad landed today at Ciampino Airport, completing a 4,806-mile nonstop flight from Chicago. It was his 50th transatlantic crossing in a small plane.

Conrad made the flight in 34 hours and 3 minutes.

The flight in a single-engine Piper Comanche did not set a record. The nonstop distance mark for small planes is held by M. L. Boling, who flew 6,856 miles in a Beechcraft Bonanza last year.
